Galmont Ballet's production of "The Nutcracker" is a spark of magic among Nutcrackers. This brisk, witty production balances classical dance, cozy drama and theatrical showmanship in all the right proportions, and this year comes reloaded with talented performers on stage wearing over 130 exquisite costumes. Thrill to leaping Russians, dancing Snowflakes, and exotic Arabian dancer as a young girl's holiday dream comes to life before your eyes. The beloved holiday ballet tells the timeless tale of a young Clara's dream as she rescues the Nutcracker Prince from the evil Rat King, travels to a dreamy Land of Sweets where characters from all over the world entertain her with fabulous dances, and she is welcomed by a beautiful Sugar Plum Fairy. Frank Galvez created his own version in 1994, with Mrs. Lucia Montero performing the role of the Sugar Plum Fairy, based on the book by E.T.A. Hoffmann, set in the United States of America around the 19th century. Galvez's production portrays a beautiful, old-fashioned Victorian Christmas tree, thrilling battle scene, exquisite sets and costumes including party boys dressed as cowboys, impressive special effects, illusions and magical tricks. Although it is a very lush production, the values of The Nutcracker remain the same, the celebration of family, tradition, and love, so essential to the holiday season. Galvez infused the ballet with a style that expresses the festivity and ambiance of an American Christmas.
